

Sponsoring events

All our events need partners. Take the LEAD showcase as an example.

The showcase is an annual display of creative work done by hundreds of school children. They come from schools whose staff are trained by HKFYG as facilitators. The children build mini-robots and create animations with software devised by the MIT Media Laboratory.

Putting these creations on show means fun for all involved and there is a strong educational element too. The Chinese University is another collaborator and we have the ongoing support of the Innovation & Technology Commission. The whole project has funding from the Hong Kong Jockey Club Charities Trust and the event, hosted by Cyberport, has the sponsorship of Sony Corporation.

Partners from the education, business and government sectors together make it work.

Now, think of what you could do with us ...perhaps we can make dreams come true.
